Mayor's bash

HIS HONOR the mayor of Granite City, Von Dee Cruse, is recognized by Fay Chenevert as honorary chairman during the first annual Mayoral Ball Friday night. Called the "people's mayor" by admirers, the mayoral event was well attended and included a variety of entertainment and food served in the spacious Knights of Columbus Hall.

GCC sale approved

The Granite City High School North building will be sold to Belleville Area College pending action by the BAC Board of Trustees. The Granite City District 9 School Board passed a resolution Thursday night, agreeing to sell the property to BAC. The resolution, which required a two-thirds vote (five of seven board members), passed with a 6-1 vote. Only Dewey Melton voted no.

BAC'S 2ND PROPOSAL was accepted by the board. It calls for payment by BAC of $500,000 in cash immediately after approval of the sale. $500,000 a year for the next 10 years, space free to District 9 for an automotive shop facility for the next five years, and $150,000 in BAC tuition waivers and scholarships for school district students for the next 10 years.

The tuition waivers are not to exceed $15,000 in any one year and will begin effective in the fall semester of 1986.

BAC will finance the cost of creating an automotive repair instruction facility within its newly-acquired Granite City building. In doing so, it will not spend more than $250,000, the agreement provides.

"I'M REALLY HAPPY with the board's decision," said Dr. Bruce Wissore, president of BAC. "And I think they will be very happy with their part of the deal. We are committed to serving the northern part of (BAC) District 922 in Granite City."

Wissore said the BAC Board of Trustees had scheduled a meeting for 7:30 a.m. Saturday to vote on the matter.

If the board agrees to buy, the sale will be subject to approval by the regional superintendent of schools and the Illinois Community College Board.

"WE HAVE BEEN in touch with them over the past many weeks, and I have heard nothing to make me think they won't approve the sale," Wissore said.

The school district will retain 30 acres of the 68-acre campus. The former high school has been leased to BAC for the past two years as the college's Granite City Center.

The school board took only 20 minutes at a special meeting Thurs-

Concern over quarry

Digging operations near Quiet Valley subdivision are being reviewed by Pontoon Beach officials.

"There's been a problem for quite a while," said Glen Wilson, Pontoon Beach Village Board president. "It was brought to our attention by residents that the sand pit is enlarging and there's some concern about danger to the homes."

After a private business road collapsed Tuesday, residents began calling village officials. About 300 feet of the road and the bank fell into a lake.

The road and lake, located behind homes on Iris Avenue, are owned by Quality Sand Inc. The company digs (or sands) in the lake.

Because the lake has moved closer to their homes, some residents along Iris Avenue are concerned the lake could endanger their property if it continues to expand.

The road's collapse was intentional, according to Don Peacock, owner of Quality Sand.

"I've still got plenty of room. I plan to go no closer," he said, adding there is no danger to area homes.

Understanding the company's operation would show there is no danger, Peacock contended. He said the slope of holes increases as equipment digs deeper in the quarry for sand. When the slope's incline becomes too steep, the walls collapse. In some cases, the bank goes too, he said. He considers the activity standard operating procedure.

Jim Hill of 11 Iris Ave. said he is concerned about equipment Peacock is using in the excavation. Since Peacock started using new equipment, Hill contends, he has come closer to the homes.

Skip Parmley of 13 Iris Ave. said he, too, is worried about the extension of the quarry. But he and Hill plan no legal action.

"The first step is in the village," Parmley said. "There would be a problem getting a class-action suit. We don't have the money for that. The easiest way is to get the village to get an injunction to stop them (Quality Sand)."

But Peacock said his expansion toward the homes has stopped and he will expand the quarry eastward.

Management imperative for a successful . . .

By SUSANNE INDELICATO

Plausible plans and best wishes for downtown revitalization could prove pointless without proper management. Experts say establishment of a managing organization, agency or official is critical.

Granite City soon will have that managing official in the form of a city development coordinator. The city council has approved creating the position to help with commercial and retail development for the entire city, although Mayor Von Dee Cruse has noted downtown revitalization is vital.

The city will enter a joint agreement with the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce to support the coordinator. The city will pay the salary, with the chamber providing services and benefits.

One of the things a coordinator should deal with is maintenance, according to Tom Wilson, executive director of the Galesburg Downtown Council.

"You've got to keep your downtown clean. A safe, clean, well-lighted area will cover up a multitude of problems," he said.

There are several ways retailers can maintain their businesses so customers will be attracted, according to Peggy Reriks Blanchard, director of the LaGrange Economic Development Department. Rearranging merchandise and keeping it clear of dust can lead consumers to believe the store is carrying new merchandise.

Window displays also should be kept clean, she noted. For instance, she advised one LaGrange baker to dispose of the dead flies that were lying inside display windows.

A managing agency or director should bring new business to the downtown area, Blanchard said. Window displays began a recruitment and retention program. The first step in such a program, she said, is to meet with property owners in the central business district.

Information on buildings, including size, condition and facilities, must be obtained from property owners. Once achieved, the managing agency will be able to provide leads to property owners seeking business tenants.

The next step, Blanchard said, is to set up a "prospecting" program. In LaGrange, business owners were encouraged to expand by adding facilities to the downtown area. If the business owners refused to expand, they were encouraged to move their existing businesses downtown.

"You must take the initiative to get the stores you want," Blanchard said. Yet another aspect of managing a successful downtown program is promotions. Wilson said Galesburg scheduled a number of special events downtown, including a bed race, a Big Wheel race, an Easter egg hunt and a parade. A clown was hired one day to pass out balloons to children.

"Use your imagination," Blanchard advised. "You have to have something downtown to get the people downtown."

"We had a Halloween Walk where the merchants dressed up and passed out treats. Three hundred kids showed up and we had 100 percent participation by the merchants." Such ideas are being picked up by downtown businessmen in Granite City.

A downtown festival, to be held June 27 through 29 in conjunction with the annual sidewalk sale, is planned by the Downtown Promotions Committee. A "Miss Downtown Granite City" pageant will be part of the festival, according to Elmer Stille, owner of Tops 'N' Bottoms, 1343 19th St.

"We are very interested in working with the city and chamber of commerce," he added. "We've united somewhat with the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society in planning a Fall Heritage Day in combination with their house touring program."

Advertising and publicity is another way of promoting the central business district, Blanchard said.

"Try to get the merchants to look at downtown as a shopping center. Get the merchants to advertise together in a tabloid or just one page. Doing a tabloid or a page is more effective than an independent ad," she said.

Blanchard said after coupons to downtown LaGrange stores were included in an advertisement, 750

Problem with absenteeism

Plans for developing and recruiting businesses to a central business district could come to a halt if owners of downtown property cannot be located.

Granite City's downtown has a number of absentee property owners, according to Elmer Stille, owner of Tops 'N' Bottoms at 1343 19th St.

"We need to identify who these people are and what they're willing to do with (their buildings). If somebody came into town and wanted to rent something, nobody can tell them anything," he said.

coupons were returned to one store owner.

As for publicity, Blanchard advised, "If you're doing something downtown, let people know about it."

Cooperative advertising already is being used by downtown Granite City merchants, who jointly paid for a two-page newspaper promotion on Mother's Day.

"That's probably the best cooperation (among downtown retailers) we've had in a while," Stille said.

A door-to-door survey of one downtown block showed that of the 13 businesses polled, only seven were in buildings that had local owners.

Granite City Mayor Von Dee Cruse said the sampling provides an accurate picture of the downtown area. But he thinks absentee owners may be as willing as local owners to participate in a downtown redevelopment plan.

"I believe if we go to these people, they'd participate. I don't know if they've ever been asked," he said.

Downtown business owners should be encouraged to accommodate customers. Stores only open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays may be losing customers who work those hours.

Blanchard told of one businesswoman who closed her clothing shop from noon to 1 p.m. each day for lunch. Downtown office workers, who took their lunch hours at the same time, could not shop in the store, and she closed.

WARM FATHER'S DAY
Fair Saturday night with low near 65. Warm and partly cloudy Sunday with a chance of thunder showers. High in the mid-80s and low in the low 60s. Continued warm Monday through Wednesday with periods of scattered showers. Highs in mid-80s and lows in the 60s.

Taxpayers are rebellious

WASHINGTON — The Internal Revenue Service is supposed to give ulcers, not get them. But Uncle Sam's tax collectors have discovered a trend in recent years that disturbs them mightily: More and more Americans think the income tax is unfair and resent the share they are expected to cough up.

That's what President Reagan has been retreating as he seeks support for his tax reform proposal. But the IRS came to its conclusion earlier. In an unpublished "strategic plan" prepared last year, which our associate Donald Goldberg obtained, the IRS had this to say about "voluntary compliance" and the lack thereof:

"Taxpayers are becoming better informed about the existence of tax abuses (tax shelters and the like), the extent of tax cheating and the difficulty for government to detect and deal with tax abuses," the report explains. "Consequently, taxpayers in general are becoming more inclined to avoid and evade taxes through such means as are available to them."

The change in attitude the IRS has detected runs deep. "Taxpayers are exhibiting a declining respect for and reliance on the law and government in general," the report warns. "A 'decay in the social contract' is detectable; there is a growing feeling, particularly among middle-income taxpayers, that they are not getting back, from society and government, their money's worth for taxes paid. ... They exhibit a declining willingness to pay the share of government expenditures (including expenditures they may strongly disagree with) which government says is theirs to pay."

The result has been a growing "tax gap," caused by individuals and corporations dealing in the "underground economy" — either paying in cash or bartering for services and not reporting the transactions at tax time. Some of these tax cheats under-report their income drastically; others simply don't file tax returns at all.

The "tax gap" was estimated at $55 billion in 1981. By 1990, the IRS calculates, the Treasury will be cheated out of $98 billion a year. One idea the IRS has in mind is trying to "establish whether penalties are effective in increasing our ability to reach non-compliant small-business taxpayers whose returns are not usually selected for examination."

Another initiative will try to unmask self-employed "potential" taxpayers who don't file returns, by selecting a random sample from commercial lists of individuals who have high incomes but who are not shown (on IRS files).

The IRS will also try to enhance the public's awareness of the seriousness of tax cheating and the importance of compliance with the tax system.

CRUEL HOAX: "Being in Prison is the effect of the emotional problem which qualifies you for Emotional Disability."

This was the advice offered to ex-convicts on a leaflet that recently arrived in our office. The document went on to list the "New Legislative Unemployment Insurance Benefits" available to ex-cons under "Bill of Rights 4190 for prisoners. According to the leaflet, felons returning to society can collect more than $500 per month.

There are, of course, no "emotional disability" benefits available for ex-convicts.

Our reporter Mark Woolley tracked the spurious leaflet to the Southeastern Training Center in Lancaster, Ohio, where an official labeled it a scam. It is now being investigated.

Praises city on liquor vote

To the Editor: I would like to say "good job" to the Granite City Council for voting against giving liquor licenses to grocery stores. We are a small city and have plenty of places to buy liquor and beer.

Five major stores were requesting licenses and at least three of these stores estimated sales of at least $400,000 a year. Yet, in the same hearing, they said they would not be hurting the small liquor stores. Did they think it would create more drinkers for Alderman Bailey of the 5th Ward for saying he has "no mercy for the small liquor stores."

If there are any small liquor businesses in the 5th ward, rest assured he stepped on someone's toes by making that statement. I, myself, thought it was a rather harsh statement for a politician to make.

Diners and managers of small liquor stores are also taxpayers and voters.

Making Dad's day an extra special event

By DONNA KIMBRO
Staff writer

Father's Day—the third Sunday in June, set aside in the U.S. for honoring fathers—

With this definition in the dictionary and declaration on every calendar as a reminder, I became one of the harried shoppers looking for the perfect gift for Dad because nothing else would be right.

After visiting many of the men's shops and shopping malls and seeing the traditional gifts of shirts, ties, wallets, I ventured further and looked at many tools and garden equipment which left me with a hollow feeling inside.

Should I buy something he really does not need just so I have a gift for him or a tool that is supposed to make his work easier? Good grief, what a choice!

At this point I decided to skip the gift and look for the card that would have a verse to say what I really wanted to say to my father. After 500 cards and reading until my eyes felt glazed, I gave up—there was not a right one.

Maybe I should have thought of looking at a later time; however, when I began to think about this annual gift buying venture I wondered why I had to stay in the traditional rut. How about something I never did before for the man who has been my father and friend all these years. What does he like the most—some type of homemade dessert that's his thing. OK that is my answer.

I immediately went into the kitchen and began preparing the best concoction I could think of and my Pop's favorite—a pineapple upside cake.

Having satisfied myself that spending my own time and energy to give him something he would really enjoy was also what I enjoyed, I sat down and composed a card to say all the things I have been wanting to say for years and never did.

Dear Dad, Hope today is special for you and I want to add my notes of appreciation and love to you as a great father.

I remember your love and patience when I was small, teaching me right from wrong as I grew up and the support you gave me as an adult. Now I realize how tired you must have been from the late night vigils when you waited for me to get home from a game or a school dance and you had to go to work the next day, and sitting by my bed when I was sick and afraid.

But most of all your guidelines for living gave meaning to my life. You provided an ethical code to live with and the stamina to face every day and every situation with compassion and determination. I think you are the greatest. Love you, your eldest daughter.

Homemade and a little whimsical? Yes, it is, but I also think Father's Day should be every day of the year and not just the third Sunday in June.

Hope you "dads" all have a great day today and every day hereafter.

This column's purpose is to make the media — and I, its editor — more understandable; to unveil the media's mystique; to discuss media events, motives, history, faults and values; all in the hope of helping you evaluate us as we go about trying to fulfill our role as the public's watchdog.

Hospice program means care world this would be if all of us followed Jesus' commandment to care for the sick, the lonely, the dying; the imprisoned. We, too, can provide small golden-hued rooms where the swallows flit in and out for those taking their final journey.

As I have visited patients and their families, I have found so many who are unchurched or have broken relationships. They always welcomed me, even though some felt that they needed no pastoral care. Just being one's self is the best medicine that can be offered to most folk. Patients want to know what is going on in the world. One woman said to me: "Don't talk religion, I've settled that. Tell me what you did today. Did you ride your motorbike? What did you see as you rode? Tell me about your dogs. I feel so cut off from the world, though I am still alive. I want to be part of the world. Please open the shades and the windows."

The last wish of one elderly man who was bedfast was to see his farm again. So, we fixed up a station wagon, gathered a team of caregivers and went to the farm about 100 miles away. There, he found his family and an old-fashioned farm dinner. Afterwards there was a hymn sing in the front parlor and a barbecue. Later, as he lay dying he kept referring to his last trip to the farm to visit his family.

How do you measure the experience of a heart's desire? No way that I know of except for the peace and contentment it can bring. This is what caring is all about. Some call it Hospice. It is loving action. It is God's shalom in life's final pilgrimage.

Reprinted from The Church Woman, Spring 1985 edition, a publication of Church Women United.

Every evening Eunice sat at his bedside in the hospital. When he was restless she would sing to him, and he would fall asleep. When he lay in his final coma she was there, knitting and humming hymns she had learned as a small child from a grandfather who was a minister. Just before falling into his final coma he said to me, "Hey, Reverend, get that look off your face. I'm O.K." These were his last words. I never will forget them.

To me, Hospice care means caring and being involved. It means listening and hearing; not always having the answers, but being there. Many times I have given thanks for the volunteers in our Madison County Hospice, both professionals and laity who give so meaningfully of their time. Their only payment is knowing that through their Christian concern they are helping make the last life journey less lonely. As time goes on, there will be an increasing need for these volunteers. Pastor, 94, discusses experience of being robbed

By JOE THOMPSON
Staff writer

VENICE — "It's the worst thing that ever did happen to me," says Rev. D. E. Johnson, who is 94 and lives here since 1925.

Three days after the front door of his home was bashed in, a pocket of his brown suit coats rifled of $760.09, told to "be still or I'll blow your brains out."

Rev. Johnson had a larger concern Friday morning, however.

"He needs to get to St. John's Medical Hospital in St. Louis, Monday, and he doesn't know how he's going to get there. He doesn't have a car. He used to, he says. Even if he did have an automobile, he couldn't drive it. He had contact surgery on both eyes April 27 at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, and he doesn't see so good. That's what the appointment in St. Louis is for, to see an eye specialist."

The appointment with the specialist is unrelated to the blow he received to his head just above his left eye, the blow he took when he was awakened early Tuesday morning by a man who had jumped on top of him, a man demanding more money than the $700 he already had taken from the coat hanging in a brown, varnished chest of drawers a few feet from the bed where Rev. Johnson was sleeping.

Rev. Johnson had saved from his monthly allotment of $350 in social security payments to buy a new stove and oven. He said he told the robber, "I ain't got more money."

"The thug hit him with such force Rev. Johnson was dazed. The assailant then made his escape, but not without rushing past Rev. Johnson's wife of 70 years, Lela, who was sleeping on a bed in the front room. Awakening, she thought it was her husband who had caused the disturbance.

"Shut the door," she remembers calling out. When no one responded, she said she yelled again, "Shut the door. It's cold."

Rev. Johnson roused himself and called out to his wife. "He said 'I've been robbed,'" said Mrs. Johnson. "Somebody's done knocked me out."

Standing in the doorway to his home at 1021 Douglas St., where he and his wife have lived since 1930, Rev. Johnson is wondering how he might get to St. Louis for his doctor's appointment.

'Somebody's done knocked me out'

A ride to St. Louis is the least that can be done for him, one would think.

"If anything the government needs to do for a man," Rev. Johnson was saying the night before, "he needs to do it for me. Because I'm 94 years old."

Venice Police Chief Farris Smith said Friday he has no suspects in the robbery. He pointed out there were no witnesses. He didn't seem particularly outraged considering the robbery Tuesday was to a man six years shy of having lived a century in this country.

"Ninety-four or 24, crime is crime," said Smith. "I don't want to see it happen to any of our citizens."

Rev. Johnson was born March 6, 1901 in Bonny, La. He has lived in Venice since 1925. He farmed cotton and corn in Louisiana before moving here. He retired as foreman of the East St. Louis Levee Board in 1974, having worked there for 11 years.

Rev. Johnson has also worked at Rolling Mill and the former American Steel in Granite City, and Laclede Steel in Madison.

Venice has been good to him and Lela, who is 88. The couple reared four daughters in this community. O'Dell Shacketford, who is 69, Viola and Veatrice, who are 73 and 72-years-old respectively and married to brothers, whose last name is Noble. Their other daughter is Maggie Hampton, also in her 70's.

O'Dell is the only daughter who still lives in Venice. Veatrice lives in Jamaica, N. Y., and Viola in Oakland, Calif. Magie makes her home in home in St. Louis.

The daughters have blessed their parents with "73 to 80" grandchildren and great-children, says Rev. Johnson and Lela. They are proud of them, as evidenced by the many photographs of the offspring which adorn their home.

As he talked about what happened to him, Rev. Johnson's voice boomed throughout the house. He is a healthy man. Tall and slender, his legs are strong and his heart is sound.

Lela is hard of hearing and needs a walker to get around, but is healthy otherwise.

Rev. Johnson in another important way. It was here he was "saved" in the teachings of Jesus Christ, and why he hopes his eyes improve. As it is now, the words in the Bible run together, he says.

Rev. Johnson became a disciple of God in 1928, when he stepped into the Trinity Church of God at 800 Bissell St. in Venice, bowed to his knees and felt "the fire coming down. The Spirit of the Holy Spirit, upon me," and was "saved."

He remained pastor of the church until about 10 years ago, he says. He still attends regularly. Rev. Johnson has also ministered in Maryland, Mo. and St. Louis, he said.

He wasn't armed when he was robbed, he says. Had he been, the "Devil," as Rev. Johnson calls the force which prevents man from abiding by God's wishes, would have had the best of him.

Rev. Johnson says he would have shot the robber if he could have. "Don't you think he deserved a killing?" he asks.

But the desire to kill has passed. The Bible preaches forgiveness, and Rev. Johnson wants to abide by the Lord's teachings.

"I want to go to heaven when I die," he says. "God's word tells me I should hold it in me. At the same time, thinking about my head hurting, thinking about that man, I wish I knew who it was. He wouldn't be a free man."

Despite the awful thing that happened, Rev. Johnson says he has no plans of leaving. "Why would I want to move?" he asks. "This is my home. I bought this place. This place belongs to me."

He also doesn't believe crime would be less anywhere else. "The devil is everywhere," he says.

He says he is not afraid, but the same can't be said for Lela.

In simple words, she says, "I ain't did nothing to nobody and I used to think nobody would do nothing to me. Now."

Funds to remove asbestos accepted

By VALERIE EYENDEN
Staff writer

Quick acceptance of a $76,375 grant and interest-free loan of equal value to reduce asbestos hazards in the 1934 addition to the Venice Grade School was approved at Thursday night's meeting of the Venice Board of Education.

"We have three weeks to accept the loan and grant, but I would recommend that we accept tonight. I think we should move on this as quickly as possible," Superintendent of Schools Robert N. Vickers said to board members.

A discussion among board members focused on the grade school's 1934 addition, the specific area to be involved in the asbestos removal.

"I see this as something that won't be done until next year," commented Vickers.

"I'm sure it cannot be done during the school year (with students in the building) and we have only two months left this summer," he added.

In its application, the Venice district sought $162,000 to reduce asbestos hazards in the building. The figure was based on a survey made some time ago. The total amount to be received by the district is $152,750.

Asbestos, once a common insulating material, is regarded as a cancer-causing substance, breathing its fibers can lead to lung cancer as well as to scarring of the lungs and other diseases, health authorities say.

Federal funds have been set aside to eradicate asbestos in certain schools, ranked according to priority of need.

In other action, the school board authorized the superintendent to advertise for bids on various supplies needed in the 1985-86 school year.

The items include gasoline for district vehicles, canned goods, eggs, milk, bread and miscellaneous supplies.

Board President Wilbert Glasper sought information from Peter Ponce, director of the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center, about procedures used to obtain supplies at the adult vocational education school.

"We use primarily the same sources as the school district," Ponce replied. "Students don't spend that much on the food items, as we provide only hot lunches for the children in the child care program and have prepared sandwiches available for the adult students," he explained.

"We could follow down the line with the same items. But, for instance, we use very few eggs."

"HE WAS NOTIFIED June 10 the Venice district is among 341 recipients nationwide which will receive grants and loans for asbestos reduction."

A total of 4,800 school districts applied and Venice is only one of three in Illinois to be selected by the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency to take part in the program.

The other two are William Fremd High School in Palatine, a Chicago suburb, recipient of a $240,000 grant and a loan of nearly $760,000, and Circle Center School of Yorkville in northern Illinois, a $109,000 loan.

"The loan is interest-free and repayment is spread over a 20-year period," the school administrator reported to the board.

"We have to make semiannual payments of $2,500 and must use the loan first before getting into the grant money."

"I want Mike (School Attorney Mike Bilibrey) to look it over and I will call Washington to get some guidance from them on how to proceed with this," Vickers said, speaking of the formalities of the loan requirements and bidding specifications for the work.

"We need to know what steps to follow and get some input into this. For instance, what role would an architect play (in the project), as we need this type of expertise."

"I also will call the state architect to see what recommendations he has to offer," the superintendent said.

Granite City Park Board prepares tentative budget

By DAVE WHALEY
Staff writer

A tentative $982,809 budget for the 1985-86 fiscal year was introduced in the Granite City Park Board June 12.

The budget projects a balance of $201,000 at the end of the fiscal year, which began May 1 and ends April 30, 1986.

The district had $214,369 in available funds at the beginning of the year and anticipates receiving $80,440 in revenue this year.

A BREAKDOWN of expenditures shows $615,501 appropriated for corporate purposes, including the administrative department, parks, concession stands, operation of the swimming pool and the ice rink. The budget estimates a balance of $196,361 in that category.

Estimated spending for the recreation program and facilities totals $266,395, including maintenance of neighborhood playgrounds, the Wilson Park playground, the park district community house and the Harold Brown Recreation Center.

A $47.9 balance is estimated in that category at the end of the year.

APA means friend for family

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH

Staff writer
A loving friend has been found for the Bob Bunselmeyer family thanks to the Granite City Association for the Protection of Animals.

The Bunselmeyers, who live on a grain farm in the outskirts of Granite City, have always had a pet collie.

When their 13-year-old pet, Susie, was run over by a truck in 1981, they sought a replacement for her. "Bob grew up having a pet dog," Sue Bunselmeyer said about her husband. "When Susie died, we started answering all kinds of ads in the newspaper, looking for another female collie."

When the first APA picture ran in the Press-Record last year, the Bunselmeyers called the shelter. The picture showed three collie-mix puppies.

"When we called, the puppies were all taken," Mrs. Bunselmeyer said. "So we left our name, hoping they would call us when they got some more collie pups."

The Bunselmeyers waited for the call, and in December, an APA volunteer told them there was another collie-mix puppy at the shelter. The only hitch was that he was a male.

"We decided we would just go out and have a look," Mrs. Bunselmeyer said. "December is not the best time for getting a new pet, what with the holidays coming."

When the Bunselmeyers saw Charlie, they couldn't resist.

"He was pretty cute," Bunselmeyer said. "He was a real little guy — only about nine weeks old."

Since the adoption, the Bunselmeyers and their two children — Amy, 8, and Mark, 6, — have grown to love their new pet.

"Don't get me wrong — there have been moments when I've wondered about him (Charlie)," Mrs. Bunselmeyer said laughingly. "Like when I've come home to find Charlie laying in the flower bed or on the tomato plants."

"He's worse than a baby sometimes. We're enjoying him — but he's not as good at picking up his toys as Amy and Mark."

Mrs. Bunselmeyer said her children have really taken to their new pet.

"Amy is crazy about him," she said. "She likes to dance with him in the yard."

"And Mark has gotten over his fear of dogs since we got Charlie. He likes to play cops and robbers with him — he shoots at him and then Charlie chases him all around the yard."

COLLIE CHA-CHA. Amy Bunselmeyer enjoys a little dancing with her new friend, Charlie. The Bunselmeyers adopted Charlie from the Granite City APA Shelter, 5000 Old Alton Road, in December.

Charlie also enjoys playing fetch with a ball and likes to carry around a plastic bat.

"Sometimes he almost looks as if he could swing and hit a ball," Mrs. Bunselmeyer said.

The family has four pet cats in addition to Charlie.

"He gives some of them a hard time," Bunselmeyer said. "He likes to eat their food."

The Bunselmeyers agree the APA program is a worthwhile one.

"If we ever want another pet, I'm sure we'll check with them," Mrs. Bunselmeyer said. "It's a good program — matching good pets up with good families."

"When we're not at home, he goes down to the neighbor's house and plays with their dogs," Mrs. Bunselmeyer said.

Nicole Royston captures first in essay contest

Madison students, Nicole Royston and Stacie Patterson, captured first and third place, respectively, in the 1985 essay contest sponsored by Madison County Farm Bureau Women.

The topic for this year's competition was "What to Do in Case of Fire in the Home."

Both girls are in the junior high division (grades 7-9). Nicole was the top winner and Stacie Patterson tied for third place with Karl Terhark of Highland.

Frank Thomas, manager of the Madison County Farm Bureau, said the purpose of the contest is to help make students aware of safety hazards inside or outside of the home and ways to prevent or correct them. Each year, a different topic is chosen.

The regional superintendent of schools distributes the materials and rules of the contest to all county schools.

The contest is one of many programs in the Women's Committee program of work. Others include first-aid instruction, cardiopulmonary resuscitation classes, defensive driving, product promotion, informational luncheons for Farm Bureau women, and work with the Young Farmers committee on stress management and the county fair.

Bubblemasters open dive season

By VALERIE EVENDEN

Seven fish were speared in skin diving competition by Ed Duffin of Granite City, earning him a first place trophy at the Bubblemasters' annual spring dive.

The three-day event, which traditionally opens the 1985 diving season for local club members, was held May 25-27 at Bull Shoals Lake near Pontiac, Mo.

About 50 scuba divers and their families attended. Most club members reside in the Quad-City area.

Duffin also won the club's traveling trophy for spearing the largest fish, an 8 pound, 6 ounce carp. The award is presented to the diver getting the biggest fish in any classification of the underwater contest.

In scuba competition, top honors went to Tom Mueller, who speared four fish weighing a total of 18 pounds, 12 ounces.

Runnersup in scuba were Jerry Dresch, who speared three fish with an aggregate weight of 15 pounds, 3 ounces, second, and Phil Lamm, whose three fish weighed 8 pounds, 5 ounces and earned him a third place trophy.

Darin Duffin with a three-fish catch was runnerup to his father, Ed, in the skin diving contest and received the second place award. Third was Tom Mueller with one fish.

Amy Lamm, daughter of Phil and Debbie Lamm of Granite City, was presented the Robin Smith traveling trophy for attaining the biggest catch by a Bubblemaster member's child in the children's fishing derby.

Competing in the division for youngsters, 8 years and younger,

Amy caught 11 fish and took the first place trophy. Angela Horstmeier captured the top trophy for landing the largest fish.

Tina Scaturro earned first for reeling in the most fish (12) in the derby for children aged 9-14. Willie Schaefer caught the largest fish in this division.

In the same age level, Dale Lamm caught seven fish and received the second place trophy and Steve Fourcall and Kathy Scaturro tied for third when each caught six fish.

The Bubblemasters Dive Club will sponsor a sanctioned Midwest Dive Council diving meet and contest June 22-23 at Stockton Lake in Missouri.

Plans are being made for a joint dive of Illinois and Missouri clubs on Labor Day weekend at Bull Shoals Lake.

Luncheon on assistance to workers

The Providence Employee Assistance Program, in conjunction with the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, is sponsoring an employee assistance program presentation and business luncheon on June 26 at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

The Employee Assistance Program (EAP) is a confidential counseling service for employees who have personal problems affecting their job performance.

The EAP has come to be utilized by area businesses as an added benefit for employees as well as a tool for handling employee personal problems before the employee becomes overwhelmed and cannot perform his or her job.

The EAP presentation luncheon is open to company presidents, vice presidents, human resource directors and personnel managers.

To learn more about the Providence Employee Assistance Program, or to make a reservation, they may call Janet Harolan at 798-3500.

Amvets install officers

Amvets Post 51, Auxiliary and Junior Amvets held their installation of officers for the 1985-86 year. The ceremony opened with the pledge of allegiance, led by Joseph White, and the invocation by Leo Clements.

Master of ceremonies was Jim King, 4th national district commander, who introduced the guest speaker, Donald Russell, past national commander.

David Parkhill, senior vice commander of Department 5 of Illinois, installed the new officers: Commander Tait Varner, First Vice Commander Harold Siebert, Second Vice Commander David Clements, Third Vice Commander William Schienschang, the finance officer and judge advocate, Joseph White, provost marshal Charles Wilkins, adjutant, membership and service officer Floyd Tucker, legislative director Harold Brandon, public relations officer James Barnes and historian Perrigan.

Jackie Petras, past department president, installed the new auxiliary officers: president and hospital chairman, Alberta Manning; first vice president and ways and means chairman, Brenda White; second vice president, Barbara Siebert; third vice president and chaplain Ann Tucker; secretary and historian, Glenda Brockman; treasurer and parliamentarian, Shirley Schienschang; sergeant at arms, Betty Wilkins; liaison, Charlotte Torregrossa; and snafest sackette, Ann Tucker.

Joseph White installed the new Junior Amvets officers: president, Jaymie Siebert; senior vice president, Jeff Wells; junior vice president, Chris Wells; secretary, Dayna Brockman; treasurer, Ida Manning; and sergeant at arms, Jenny Wells. Junior Amvets advisers are Joseph White and Barbara Siebert.

In the closing ceremony, the outgoing commander and auxiliary president exchanged farewell gifts. They also received gifts from post members and the Junior Amvets. The benediction was by Ann Tucker, with retiring of the colors by Betty Clements.

Members and guest enjoyed a buffet and the music of Jerry Adams' Country Music Machine.

Child safety workshop in GC June 19

The Granite City Public Library will present "Open the door to Safety" Wednesday, June 19, from 2 to 3 p.m. at the main library, 2001 Delmar Ave.

The personal safety workshop is "an entertaining yet effective musical approach to teaching children how to safeguard themselves against kidnap, abuse and sexual abuse," a spokesman said.

The program consists of puppetry, music and role playing with the children.

By presenting situations in which children may find themselves, they are taught how to react quickly.

The workshop, presented by Phyllis Bechtold, Godfrey, includes information on building self-esteem, basic safety don'ts, identification of strangers, the buddy system, the power yell, and what to do when lost.

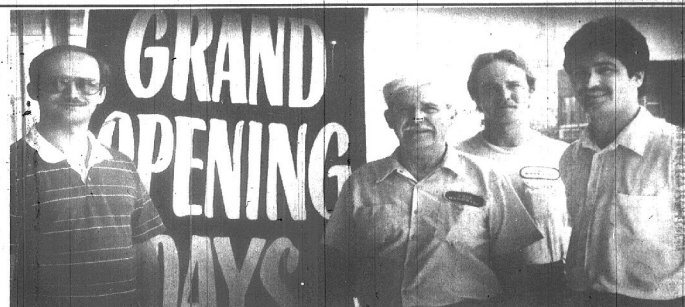

Public hearing on CD housing funds

Housing funds available to the City of Venice through Madison County Community Development will be discussed at a public hearing at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 25, in the council chambers at the Venice City Hall.

Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols said the public hearing will precede the City Council's regular meeting, slated to start at 8 p.m.

National Honor Society salutes GCHS seniors

The Granite City Chapter of the National Honor Society held its fourth annual leadership banquet May 22 at the Granite City High School cafeteria.

Lois Hull had the most points in the presentation of NHS Merit Awards to the 76 graduating seniors who were NHS members.

Guest speaker at the event was Granite City native Dal Maxvill.

former St. Louis Cardinal shortstop and now general manager of the National League baseball team.

Maxvill's niece, Dawn Bienenick, was one of the 76 honored.

Another honoree special to Maxvill was Mike Lewis, grandson of Al Lewis Sr., who was Maxvill's baseball coach and mentor at Granite City High School in the late 1950s.

NHS officers for the 1985-86 year were elected at the banquet. Replacing Andy Loftus as president will be Kenneth Duane Jones; succeeding Pamela Robb as vice president will be Patricia Scaturro; replacing Elizabeth Bodnum as secretary will be Linnette Maier; and replacing Linda Dupont as treasurer will be Alan Gerard.

FORMER RESIDENTS Mr. and Mrs. John Walton, now of 917a W. Rollins, Moberly, Mo., are announcing the birth of a boy June 6 at Boone Hospital Center.

The infant weighed 6 pounds, 14 ounces. The mother is the former Robin Simpson.

Grandparents include Mr. and Mrs. Jim Simpson and a great grandmother, Goldie Knox, all of Granite City.

BETHEL 43 members plan to attend six plays on July 16 and go to the St. Louis Muny Opera to see "Fantasy on Ice" during the week of July 8.

Plans for the two events were finalized at last week's meeting conducted by Diane Kaltmayer, queen. She also led a discussion on selling cookie pies as the next fund-raising project.

The Bethel received a letter from Kelly Gasser, queen of Bethel 348 of Pacific, Calif., requesting that the two groups become pen pals. The idea is under consideration.

Mrs. Charlotte Root, guardian, and Ralph Baker, associate guardian, supervised the session.

CREATIVE ARTIST Mrs. Patricia Polley of Mitchell will present the June demonstration on "The Art of Porcelain Painting" at the Gateway East Artist Guild meeting.

The session will begin at 7:30 p.m. Monday, June 17, at the Jaycee Hall, 2016 N. Keebler, Collinsville. Polley pursued her interest in oil painting with courses at Belleville Area College and then became a fan of antique dishes and continued her training in porcelain painting, which she has enjoyed for five years.

MORTGAGE BURNING at the Glen Carbon First Assembly Church, 124 Steiss Drive, will take place on Sunday, June 23, according to the Rev. Orlando Hale, pastor.

The celebration will begin at 9:45 a.m. with music by the Psalms Messengers and Larry Wilson Family and at noon a basket dinner will be served. At 2:30 p.m., the mortgage burning service will be conducted by Rev. Hale.

SWEET ADELINES' Collinsville Chapter received second place in the 1985 Region Five competition. The chorus competed in a field of 21 and was judged in four categories. The group includes Granite Cityans.

Under the direction of George Holtzschler, the chapter was 1980 and 1983 regional champion. The latest contest was in Springfield, Ill., and previously the singers participated internationally in Phoenix, Ariz., and Las Vegas, Nev.

Any women with alto or soprano voices interested in barbershop vocal harmony are invited to attend a rehearsal any Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Son-Life Fellowship, 1203 Vandalla St., Collinsville, the director said.

Look at layoffs planned at steel plant

Reduction of 20% or more will be reached by attrition

By BILL WINTER

Job cutbacks are good news at Granite City Steel and two other National Steel plants for three reasons, Dan Hines, GC Steel public relations manager, said Friday.

"1. Reduction of 20 percent or more of the staff by 1988 will be achieved by normal attrition rather than through layoffs or shutdowns, avoiding much hardship, Hines said.

"2. The staff streamlining is not a haphazard action, he said. It is part of a well-planned, highly-coordinated program that includes many positive aspects, such as expenditure of $1 billion in improvements at Granite City Steel, Great Lakes Steel near Detroit and Midwest Steel near Chicago.

"3. THE MANY-FACETED plan has as its central point the long-term success and viability of the three National Steel plants. High-quality steel and competitive pricing are seen as the keys to assuring job security and corporate health, Hines related.

Jim Pennekamp, Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce executive vice president, commented Thursday, "Granite City Steel is going about this in a very humane and progressive manner."

"They are not doing it all at once the layoffs.

"Japanese (involvement at the plant) means progress at Granite City Steel, and stability. Nippon Kokan of Japan, one of the world's largest steelmakers, owns 50 percent of National Steel Corp. The other 50 percent is owned by National Intergrupp Inc. of Pittsburgh, Pa.

"CONFIDENCE in the people of Granite City Steel, Midwest Steel and Great Lakes Steel is shown by the decision to spend more than $1 billion in upgrading these facilities over the next three to five years, Hines told the Press-Record/Journal.

"More than $50 million is being spent at Granite City Steel in capital projects this year," Hines said.

"Our new hot strip mill computer went into operation in January. This is one of the largest in-house computerization projects ever conducted.

"We also are proceeding with a ladle metallurgy station at the basic oxygen furnace and a desulfurization station. And we are upgrading the computerization in the basic oxygen furnace process and at the blast furnace.

"MANY OF THE GOALS work together. With the capital expenditures come energy reduction, higher productivity, increased efficiency and higher quality of products, all aiding sales volume and stability. Such progress permits reduction of man-hours per ton of steel without the turbulence of shutting down a plant or putting people out of their jobs.

"As we make improvements in steel quality, procedural consistency and technological innovations, we also improve productivity.

"It is essential that we reduce man-hours per ton to a lower figure to be competitive in the world market."

ALTHOUGH PROFITABLE in 1984, National Steel lost $40 million on sales of $514 million in the first quarter of 1985 due to price levels and the glut of steel throughout the world.

Officials in Pittsburgh said cost-cutting has been a major policy for several years and is being fine-tuned in cooperation with Nippon Kokan, which became part-owner in 1984.

Thirteen technical specialists have been assigned to National Steel by the Japanese firm. Their cost recommendations already total more than $300 million.

WITH THE 12,500 National Steel personnel to be reduced to 10,000, there is expected to be a cut of 760 in the present number of 3,800 salaried employees and a reduction of 1,740 in the 8,700 production workers.

Despite such projections, no firm or final manning decisions have been made. It was emphasized. Some foreseen staff trimming ultimately exceeding 20 percent.

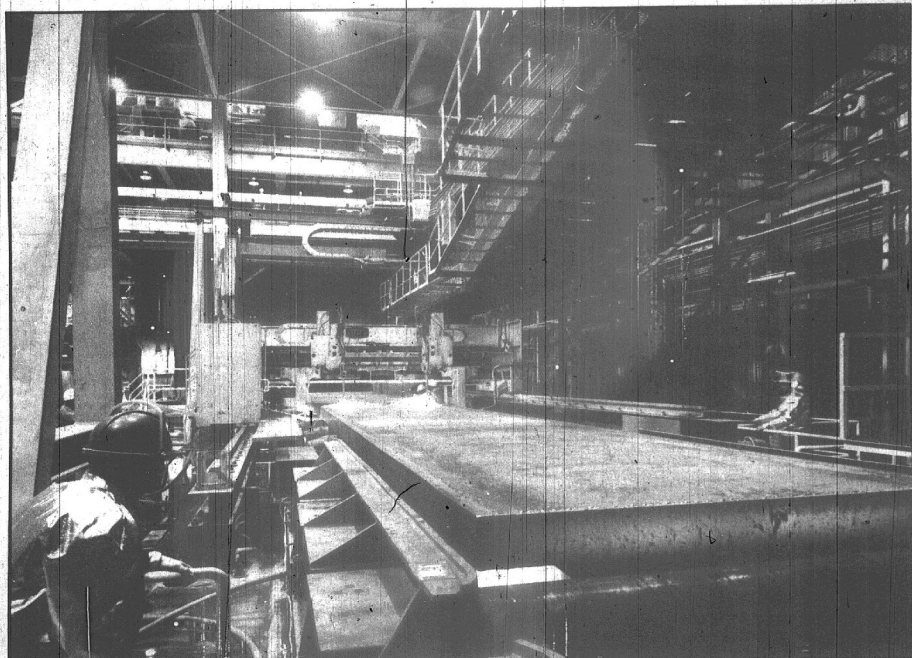

Current wages and benefits are estimated at $24 hourly at steel plants in the United States, an amount higher than the pattern in many nations.

ALTHOUGH MANY American steel plants are aging, those operated by National Steel are regarded as among the most modern.

The $1 billion to be spent on them in 1985 is seen as assuring that they will be among the survivors in an era when many production mills have been shut down or will be closed.

In 1984, domestic steelmakers averaged 6.2 man-hours for each ton of steel produced. The figure at National Steel was 5.5 man-hours, and it is hoped to reduce this to 3.8 by 1988.

Howard M. "Pete" Love, chairman of National Intergrupp Inc., cites as positive NII actions in recent months "transforming National Intergrupp into a holding company to provide broad flexibility, downsizing the company's steel business, selling 50 percent of National Steel to Nippon Kokan, and selling the Weirton Steel Division to its employees."

CONTINUOUS CASTING at Granite City Steel.

CURRENT PLANS of NII have been outlined to shareholders by Love as follows:

"As to our current strategies, we have retained our investment bankers, Dillon, Read & Co., to assist the NII board in analyzing and reviewing alternatives concerning our businesses.

"This review will include the possible sale or other disposition of certain of NII's businesses and the making of a substantial portion of any sale proceeds available to stockholders through a stock repurchase program or other means."

Job loss viewed at its worst

By JACK C. VENTIMIGLIA
Executive Editor

The economic noose tightened a notch last week in Madison County. If new jobs are not created to absorb the 780 jobs to be lost over the next three years at Granite City Steel, the county's going to face big cuts.

Dollar losses could be in the millions, according to Robert White, deputy director for economic development with the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission. But he said various factors could reduce potential losses.

The jobs being cut by attrition at the steel company's Granite City facility will strike hard at the city and ripple out into the county, White said.

Based on a projection formula used by SWIMPAC, White said losing only 100 jobs could result in the declines reflected in the following countywide breakdown:

- Personal income, $11 million;
- Total taxes, $224 million;

- Retail sales, $5.07 million;
- Service receipts, $1.43 million;
- Bank deposits, $1.1 million;
- Time deposits, $7.7 million;
- Related jobs, 185;
- Retail businesses, 4;
- Service businesses, 4.

The figures realistically cannot be multiplied by 7.7 to determine how losing 780 jobs would reduce revenue in the county, White cautioned. However, he said total reductions could be severe under those shown.

Multi-million dollar losses reflected in the statistics are shadows, White said, because they reflect only possibilities. Each new job created offsets a job lost during the three-year attrition program planned by Granite City Steel, he said.

Should 780 new jobs come to the area to replace the ones lost, the statistics are meaningless. He called it beneficial that Granite City already is taking steps to improve its economic condition. Among its economic plans, the city is involved in seeking an Illinois Enterprise Zone to attract new industry, planning to hire an economic coordinator to attract new retail business, and starting an industrial retention program to help existing industry.

"What the community leaders should be doing is marketing what they have to sell," White said. "What you do is advertise and market your products to attract new customers, that's all."

It's too early to tell how many jobs lost during the next three years will be replaced by other businesses, according to Granite City Mayor Von Dee Cruse.

However, the city's various programs could help attract new businesses to reduce the impact of the work decrease. In addition, an official of Granite City's A. O. Smith plant stated last November the company could hire up to 550 persons by the close of 1985, a significant part of the jobs to be lost at the steel company.

These possibilities, if translated into jobs, still won't give the county much breathing room. Latest figures put the county's jobless rate at 10.3 percent.

City's future cloudy, but optimism prevails for civic leaders here

By JACK C. VENTIMIGLIA
Executive Editor

"Pack up and leave town? Never!"

Dark clouds haven't shaken Jim Pennekamp's faith in Granite City's ability to weather a storm.

The 780 jobs to be claimed by attrition over the next three years at Granite City Steel will hurt this little steel town of 36,000. But this town's been hurt before, and fought back.

The Metro East's second largest industrial employer, Granite City Steel's parent company shocked the community Wednesday by announcing it will nationally cut its workforce by 20 percent. The company, employing 3,800 locally, is owned by National Steel Corp.

"This was kind of surprising to me," Mayor Von Dee Cruse said

Thursday of the attrition plan. Losing so many jobs obviously concerns Cruse and Pennekamp, executive vice president for the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

Lost jobs mean stores close, store closings mean more persons out of work, less persons working helps depreciate housing, people leave town, tax revenue declines.

It's a bleak picture, but not the whole picture.

The bottom line on Granite City Steel is we should accept and encourage those things that are going to help it keep operating over the short term to help it grow over the long term," Pennekamp said.

Though the labor force will be reduced, Granite City Steel is going to remain vital to the region's economy. If the 3,800-member workforce falls to the projected level of 3,020, current Metro East statistics show the company remaining second among the region's top five manufacturing employers. Olin Corp. employs approximately 4,000 in East Alton.

"One of the things we have to be concerned about now is how to keep Granite City Steel competitive," Pennekamp said. "The name of the game is cost reduction."

National Steel is working hard at cost reduction. Employing 12,500 today, the company nationally plans to survive by cutting up to 2,500 jobs by 1988.

Losing jobs is nothing new to Granite City, partly accounting for Pennekamp's belief Granite City can deal with the coming problem.

Granite City has seen several companies close or cut back, including A.O. Smith and American Steel. Last month figures put the jobless rate here at 12 percent.

"There were 8,500 jobs lost in Madison County, 6,000 of which were lost in Granite City," Pennekamp said. "Now, Granite City just didn't dry up and blow away."

In addition to keeping a strong workforce at Granite City Steel, the city offers plenty to attract new businesses, according to Pennekamp and Cruse.

"We've got things to offset that unemployment," Cruse said.

Supporting their contentions, they noted:

- The city is partly within an area being considered for an Illinois Enterprise Zone, which is an area set aside to attract businesses and residential development by offering tax breaks and other incentives. News on the designation is expected from the state by July.

The city recently embarked on a retention program designed to help keep industry operating in the area.

A.O. Smith is regaining some of its former vitality, having announced plans in November to employ several hundred persons by the end of this year to provide automotive parts.

The city is accessible by water, rail and interstate; it has a large workforce; it contains a college extension center and is near several universities; all important factors for large-scale business operations looking for a home.

"We have demonstrated that this city, right now, has the ability to attract new business," Pennekamp said. "Granite City and the entire Tri-Cities area have been the recipients of more capital investment in major industrial development than any other area in the Metro East."

Noting Nippon Kokan's decision last year to purchase a half interest in National Steel, Cruse said the Japanese steel giant offers stability for the more than 3,000 persons who will continue working at Granite City Steel following the attrition period's close. He said the company will continue to provide a solid job base.

Cruse said, "I believe with Granite City Steel's presence here, and the involvement of the Japanese, we've got a great chance."

Alderman Garrett pleads innocent

A plea of innocent to a charge of keeping a gambling place was entered June 12 by Donald E. Garrett of Madison.

He is a member of the Madison County Board and the Madison School Board and is a 4th Ward alderman in Madison.

On May 10, the misdemeanor charge was lodged against Garrett at the Capri Lounge, 800 Jackson St., Madison.

Garrett said he does not own the lounge. He was freed after posting $100 bail.

Madison city officials confirmed his assertion that Garrett's name does not appear on the liquor license for the lounge.

Information is sought on drowned woman

The Illinois Department of Criminal Investigation is seeking information on the body of a woman found in the Mississippi River near Saugat June 7.

The woman was 5 feet, 11 inches tall, between the ages of 20 and 30 and had a vertical abdominal scar below the navel.

The body was clothed in a man's beige Arrow shirt with brown and green plaid stripes, a Boy's dark green V-neck sweater and a pair of lady's blue jeans.

Preliminary pathological reports indicate the victim died due to drowning.

The DCI is attempting to deter-

A jury trial on the charge is expected to be set for July, court officials said.

A raid on the lounge by Illinois State Police and officers from the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation resulted in the arrest of 12 people, including Garrett, on various gambling charges.

Garrett, who lives across the street from the lounge, said he went over to investigate why police were at the lounge. He was not a patron at the time they arrived, he said.

A dice game was in progress when the raid took place, according to the police. They confiscated about $900 and a dice table in the raid.

mine if the body has any connection with a report by St. Louis police of a person jumping or falling off the Eads Bridge June 2.

Personal effects recovered from the bridge indicate the individual was from the bi-state metropolitan area.

Authorities have been unable to determine if that jump and the body found June 7 are connected.

Anyone with any information on missing persons matching the above description is to contact DCI in Collinsville at 345-2700 or 345-1212, or the St. Clair County Coroner's Office at 233-4442.

MAN ARRESTED ON WARRANT

A Granite City man was arrested June 4 on a warrant. Alfred Kerry Nolen, 19, 2828 Denver St., was charged with criminal damage to property in the warrant.

REPORTS PURSE GONE

Kim King, 182 Viola Jones Homes, Venice, reported a purse containing a brown wallet, $20 cash, milk coupons, a driver's license and personal papers, was stolen June 4 from the kitchen table.

TRANS AM STOLEN

A 1974 Pontiac Trans Am was stolen May 28 from the rear of the Gregg Brawley residence, 1320 Oriole St., Venice. Also taken were a Chevrolet engine block and transmission and other motor parts.

APARTMENT BURGLARY

A television set was taken from the apartment of JoAnn Palmer, 1413 Third St., Madison, the owner reported June 10. The entire apartment was ransacked.

MAN SERVED DUI WARRANT

Michael K. Kohut, 26, of 2729 Saratoga St., was arrested at 1100 Route 3 and Niedringhaus Avenue June 10 on a warrant alleging failure to appear on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

BOOKED ON TWO CHARGES

Jeffrey A. Beasley, 17, of 2207 Edison Ave. was charged June 10 by Granite City police with leaving the scene of a vehicle damage accident. He also was served a warrant alleging theft of over $300 value.

2 CHARGES AGAINST MAN

Edward A. Holick, 24, of 31 Parktowne West Apts. was arrested June 9 at Goldie's Tavern, 1800 State St., for disorderly conduct and resisting arrest. Holick allegedly shoved a police officer, and force was used to handcuff him.

BATTERY IS ALLEGED

John D. Wallace, 27, of 2553 Circle Drive was charged June 9 with battery. His ex-wife, Kimberly Wallace, 2017 14th St., said she was in Wallace's residence when they began arguing. She alleged he hit her on the face and body.

SIX TIRES ARE SLASHED

Bill Stearns, owner of Stearns Auto Sales, 408 N. Main St., told police June 9 someone cut two tires each on three different auto parked on his lot. Also damaged was an outside mirror on a car.

DIAMOND RINGS STOLEN

Bruce McKinney of Little Rock, Ark., was asleep in his truck at Gateway Truck Plaza at 2:42 a.m. Tuesday when a woman knocked on the door and escaped with $20 from his wallet and two diamond rings valued at $2,000 each from the dashboard of the truck cab, he notified police.

Concern

"I'm going to take the sand from this area and then develop it," he said as he pointed to a photograph of the quarry and vacant land to the east of it.

Quality Sand owns about 120 acres behind Iris Avenue. Peacock said his sand quarry was established long before the homes were built.

Wilson said he has contacted several state agencies, including the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, about the residents' complaints, but agency officials said they have no jurisdiction over the plan.

He also is encouraging Peacock to help village officials determine if there is a problem.

"If the homes are undermined, then we'll take the appropriate action," Wilson said. "If there is no danger, then we need a qualified professional to reassure them (residents)."

Both Peacock and Wilson said they would be willing to meet with residents in the area to discuss their concerns.

Activities planned at public library

"Open Books, Open Doors" is the theme of the 1985 summer library program at the Granite City Public Library. This program consists of reading, crafts, films and storytimes.

Despite a continuing construction project at the main library, a variety of special activities is planned from June 17 through Aug. 6, including a Disney movie June 18 and a workshop on child safety June 19. All the programs are free, and children are being encouraged to participate in as many as their schedules will allow. A calendar of all upcoming programs is available at the library.

Children who read and report on ten books by Aug. 6 will fulfill the requirement, receive a certificate, and be invited to the final party in August. Each book read during the summer will earn the children "Book Bucks" which they will be able to redeem at the summer party for prizes.

Craft sessions will be held at the main library and at the branch on Wednesdays and Saturdays throughout the summer. Children must be at least six years old to attend craft sessions. All supplies will be furnished.

Films will be shown Tuesday afternoons at 2 in the Children's Room at the main library. All films are free and open to the public. A list of upcoming movies is available in the Children's Room.

Storytimes will be held Thursdays, now through Aug. 8.

day night to adopt the resolution. MELTON FELT the district was not receiving enough in return for the property and voted against the sale.

Earlier, Melton had made a motion that if the board agreed to the sale, the proposal be put on the November ballot as an advisory question.

"I would like the terms of the sale put on the ballot and let the people of this district make the decision," Melton said.

The motion died for the lack of a second.

BOARD MEMBER Montee Worthen questioned if other parties had had an opportunity to make an offer for the property.

Another board member, Alan Crider, said, "I mentioned at the public hearing (June 10) that if anyone wanted to make an offer, they could. So far, I have heard nothing. I think we have given ample opportunity for that."

The $50,000 yearly payments to the school district will start July 1, 1986, and there will be no interest payable on the outstanding amount.

The use of the auto shop facility will begin Sept. 1, 1986.

SHOULD BAC DECIDE to use the property for purposes other than education, it will return the property to the district if the district can offer the original purchase price.

If the district should decide to sell the 30 acres it has retained, BAC will have the first right of purchase. Wissore said he didn't anticipate any problems with the $150,000 in tuition waivers, which was not a part of BAC's original offer involving $1 million in cash.

"I THINK IT'S important to have cooperation between the two bodies," he said. "And that $150,000 will be used to reduce tuition costs and will be good for the city of Granite City."

Wissore said BAC will assume ownership of the property within 60 days of approval.

BAC's two-year lease with the district was scheduled to expire yesterday, June 15.

hours at his store if it would help business.

"It's something we've gone through for a long time. The problem downtown is we don't have enough business to support that sort of thing."

But Wilson said it is the customer who should come first when setting policies, such as hours.

"Quit giving people lip service. If you look at society, people's habits change. If all of us started looking through the eyes of the people we're trying to sell and service, instead of our own eyes, we'd start making vast improvements," Wilson said.

Rick Hill knows his . . .

Knives

Reddish sparks fly as the sanding belt meets the metal's silver-grey edge. The intense, greying knifemaker firmly holds the shard, his muscles tense; the grating of metal against the belt ignored.

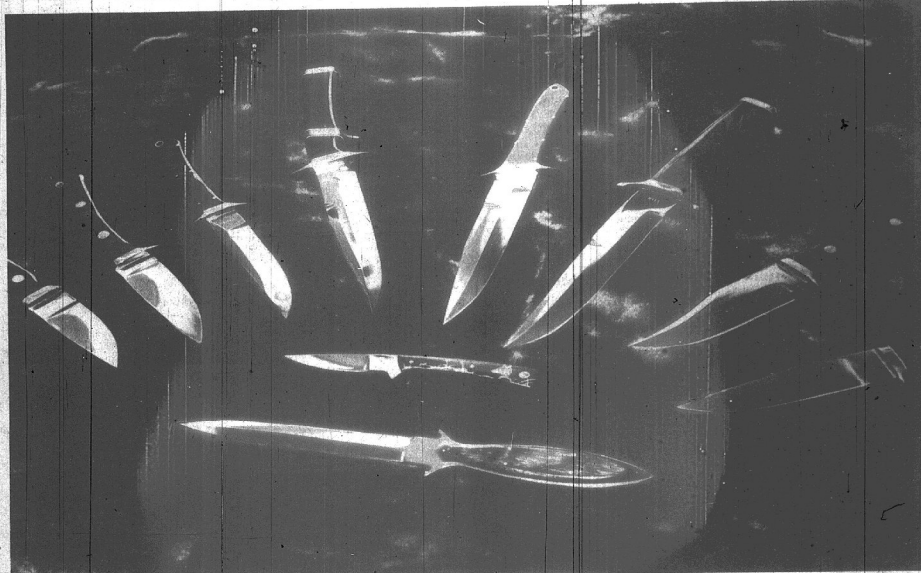

Rick Hill of Granite City is a sheet metal worker at Granite Sheet Metal by day, but by night he pursues his passion — following the age-old craft of shaping base metal into finely formed knives and swords.

Hill is a knifemaker. But he doesn't make just any kind of knives, he specializes in handcrafted custom knives. Hunting and fighting knives, Bowie knives, daggers and swords. All of his knives and swords are functional when completed, but many are crafted for collectors, some of whom are repeat customers.

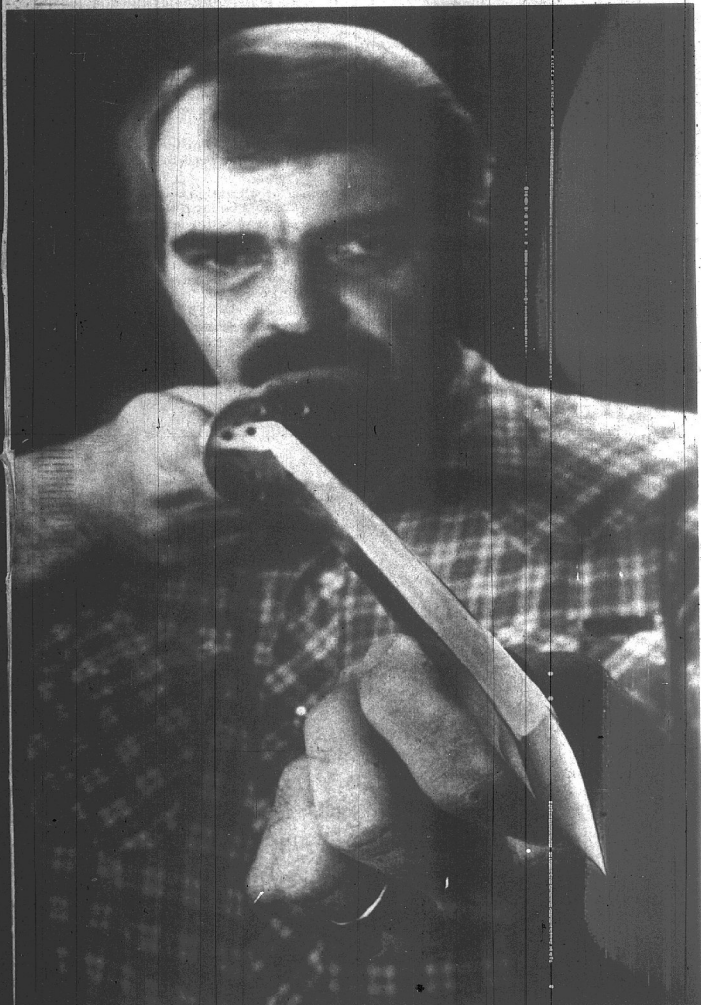

Hill is one of an elite group of a few hundred knifemakers in the country who carry on the tradition of making knives by hand. Some of the work, mostly grinding and polishing, is done with the help of a special knifemaker's machine, but Hill has never used jigs or other aids in cutting, grinding or finishing his knives.

"I really enjoy the challenge of making a knife for someone using their design. I make several standard designs.

AKR initiates 28 members

Alpha Kappa Rho, the new Phi Theta Kappa chapter at Granite City Center, recently initiated 28 members.

Phi Theta Kappa is recognized by the American Association of Junior Colleges as a national honor society for two-year colleges.

The new members included Karen Ahlers, Daria Anderson, Lloyd Bailey, Harold Carlson, Melinda Cigelske, Phillip DeRuntz, Sandra Edwards, Scott Fever, Patricia Foote, Barbara Gregory, Edward Hoffman, Katherine Knezevich, Marsha Legate, Dawn Paterson, Randy Pryor, Thomas Shipley, Cheryl Smick, Jodi Spanberger, Cheryl Thompson, Debra Vassoline, Gina Waltemate and Daniel Whiteside, all from Granite City, and Lyndora Haynes from Madison.

The charter members of the chapter presented a petition for membership at Phi Theta Kappa's national convention in St. Louis on March 30.

The chapter was organized through the efforts of a steering committee of seven students. Tom Shipley, chairman of the committee, explained why they organized the chapter.

"We wanted to get the chapter started at Granite City in time for graduation," he said. "We wanted our graduates to be recognized as honor students when they graduated."

Teresa Johnson, educational specialist in English at GCC and faculty sponsor for the new chapter, described what she hopes the chapter will be doing in the coming year.

"I want the honor society to be involved with community service projects," she said. "Maybe we can help organizations like the United Way."

"We will emphasize service and encourage academic achievements and creative talents of students. The chapter will have to decide if we will offer scholarships and prizes for incentives and awards."

"We want to go to the national convention in Philadelphia next year," Johnson said.

Rosanna Herren, GCC's assistant to the provost, said students must meet requirements of the national society to become a member. Members must be enrolled in a two-year college and have completed at least 12 hours of credit toward a recognized degree while achieving at least a "B" grade point average.

Knives are his pastime

and some of my own design, but a custom design is really the best challenge," Hill said. "Unless I really want to do a particular knife, I won't. I have plenty of orders to fill, so if I'm really not interested in a knife, I won't do it."

Hill has been making knives for only two years in his basement workshop, but his knives reflect a master's ability. Each is highly polished to a mirror-like finish with perfectly fitted handles of various, sometimes exotic materials.

"If my knives are not misused or abused they are guaranteed for life," Hill stated.

He rough cuts each knife from special stainless steel made for blades and spends 20 to 25 hours on each knife—grinding, forming, honing. He has the blades commercially heat treated to assure exact and consistent hardness. After hardening, he begins the laborious task of hand polishing the blades to a chrome-like finish and sharpening them to exact tolerances.

Carving and fitting handles to the knives is an art which Hill finds challenging and different with each piece.

"With natural handle materials, especially exotic woods, you never know what the inside of a block will look like or how it will work," Hill said.

He also uses a manmade material, Micarta, which is available in various colors and is a petroleum by-product.

"It's indestructible," he said. "It'll take any kind of abuse. You can even hit it with a hammer and not hurt it."

Stag horns, elephant ivory and mother-of-pearl are among the natural materials available for handles. And each knife Hill makes comes with a handmade, custom leather sheath, stamped with the knife's serial number. Scrimshaw, engraving, file work and other customized ornamentation are also available.

Hill has produced several swords. A small Samurai sword lies in his workshop unfinished, awaiting a handle. He's also done a short, 18-inch Roman Legion-style sword for one of his customers.

Another challenge for Hill is working on a filleting knife that will be made to match a previously made knife. One of his customer's had a short filleting knife made and has ordered a matching knife, but with a longer blade.

Each of Hill's knives is serial numbered according to its type. He keeps the first of each new design he makes for his own collection.

Despite the relatively short time he has been making knives, Hill is trying to decide what to make for his 100th piece.

"I'd like to make a medieval-period broadsword, but I know how much work would be involved and I don't think I can afford the time with so many orders to fill," he said.

The broadsword, a crushing weapon associated with English knights of the 14th-16th centuries, would be more than four feet from handle to point.

But for now, he has orders for knives to keep him busy through October of this year.

bottle cheaper than both Martini & Rossi and the Tosti.

Since this is a good wine, you might think Ernest and Julio Gallo would have known they made it. In fact, the name Gallo does not appear anywhere on the label. It simply says Ballatore Champagne Cellars, Modesto, Calif. (Of course, if you pay attention to the small print, and if you know that Gallo's giant bottling plant is in Modesto, you could have guessed it was their wine. And of course by saying Modesto on the label, the producer couldn't have been Italian, as the name implies.)

If it seems curious that the Gallos wouldn't want their names on the label, you have to remember that in addition to being proud of their achievements (they own the world's largest and most successful winery), they are also consummate businessmen.

And they know that some people equate the Gallo name with cheap wine. And they also know that anything imported has a certain panache, an image that if it's imported it has to be good.

It was for those reasons that Gallo began producing a wine called Polo Brindisi about a year ago that was intended to regain some of its sales that had been lost to Italian wines in the last few years.

Polo Brindisi has reportedly been successful, although Gallo declines to give sales figures. Ballatore is Gallo's next challenge to Italian imports.

Here's further proof that Gallo realizes its image for producing poor-quality wine can occasionally hurt sales.

I was talking to the owner of a quality restaurant the other day who said, "I like Gallo's bulk wines. They are consistent and the price is right. But I couldn't afford to have them as my house wine because when people asked me what I served, I had to say Gallo, and that turned off a lot of them."

"So you know what they're doing? They're selling a bulk wine called William Wycliffe. It's the same as Carlo Rossi," which is the brand Gallo uses on its bulk wines.

So now when inebriated consumers go into some restaurants and ask what the house wine is, they may be told it is William Wycliffe. Sounds better than Gallo.

Just as Ballatore sounds better than Gallo Sparkling Muscat.

Summer squash

- 3 lbs. yellow summer squash
- 1 small onion, quartered
- 1 bay leaf
- 1/4 tsp. ground thyme
- 1 cup water
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 3 tbsps. whole wheat flour
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1 1/2 cups light cream or half-and-half
- 2 eggs
- 2 tbsps. lemon juice
- 2 tbsps. chopped fresh parsley
- 3/4 cup shredded cheddar or Swiss cheese
- 1/4 cup fine dry bread crumbs

Preheat oven to 325 F. Wash squash, trim ends and scrape lightly. Slice paper thin.

In saucepan combine squash, onion, bay leaf, thyme, water and salt. Bring to boil, cover, and simmer over low heat 10 minutes. Drain well in colander, discarding onion and bay leaf. Set aside.

Melt butter in small saucepan over medium-low heat; gradually stir in flour and pepper to form roux. Slowly pour in cream, stirring constantly, until sauce just comes to a boil. Adjust heat to low and simmer 5 minutes, stirring often.

In bowl, lightly beat eggs and pour in hot cream sauce, stirring constantly. Beat in lemon juice, then stir in chopped parsley.

Stir in half of cheese, then gently fold in squash.

Turn mixture into oiled or buttered baking dish. Combine bread crumbs with remaining cheese and spread evenly over top.

Bake, uncovered, 30 minutes, until heated through and top is golden brown.

Serves 6 to 8.

Colache

- 1 lb. zucchini or yellow crookneck squash
- 2 large fresh tomatoes
- 3 tbsps. butter or margarine

- 1 medium onion, finely chopped
- 2 cups whole kernel corn
- 1/4 tsp. cayenne pepper
- 1/4 tsp. paprika
- 1/4 tsp. garlic salt

Wash squash, trim, and slice thin. Peel and dice tomatoes. Set aside.

Melt butter in saucepan and add onion, saute until just tender. Stir in vegetables and seasonings. Cover and steam over low heat 10 to 15 minutes.

Serves 6 to 8.

Cool salad

- 1 1/2 lbs. fresh spinach
- 3 ozs. blue cheese
- 1 small red onion, coarsely

- chopped
- 2 tbsps. lemon juice
- 3 small summer squash (yellow crookneck, zucchini or patty pan)
- 3 tbsps. vegetable oil
- 1/4 cup red wine vinegar
- 1 tsp. honey
- 1/4 tsp. tarragon
- 1 hard-cooked egg, chopped

- 1 large ripe tomato, cut in wedges

Remove stems from spinach and discard. Wash leaves thoroughly and drain well. Tear into bite-size pieces and place in salad bowl.

Crumble blue cheese over spinach. Add chopped onion and lemon juice, toss. Set aside.

Wash squash and trim off ends; thinly slice. In large frying pan, heat vegetable oil, add squash, and saute 2 minutes. Stir in vinegar, honey and tarragon, and bring to boiling point over high heat.

Immediately pour over spinach mixture and toss well. Garnish with chopped hard-cooked egg and tomato wedges.

Serves 6 to 8.

COMPTON HEIGHTS CONCERT BAND of St. Louis, under the direction of Kaid Friedel (right, rear), will open its sixth annual "Musical Mondays" series of concerts on the Henry Shaw Memorial Bandstand, Tower Grove Park, Grand and Magnolia, St. Louis, on Monday, June 24, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Concert band presents 'Musical Mondays'

The Compton Heights Concert Band will live the St. Louis musical scene when its sixth annual "Musical Mondays" concert series opens on Monday, June 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the Henry Shaw Memorial Bandstand, Tower Grove Park, Grand and Magnolia, St. Louis, to an anticipated crowd of 3,000 listeners.

The 60-piece Compton Heights Concert Band, under the direction of Maestro Kaid Friedel, band director, will present the first of eight consecutive Monday night performances of two-hour, free, old-fashioned band concert, sing-alongs and soloists. Last year's "Musical Mondays" series attracted over 20,000 listeners.

Headlining the first concert is clarinet soloist Robert Coleman, assistant principal clarinetist, St. Louis Symphony, in "Concerto, op. 26 for Clarinet and Band" by Weber.

A native St. Louisian, Coleman graduated from Jennings High School and then attended the Eastman School of Music. He graduated from Eastman with a bachelor of music education degree and was a student of Stanley Hasty. Coleman was awarded the Performer's Certificate at Eastman and performed as soloist with the Rochester Civic Orchestra under the direction of Howard Hansen. Coleman joined the St. Louis Symphony in 1960, and in addition to being the assistant principal clarinet, he also is the E-flat clarinetist in the Orchestra.

This concert marks his fourth appearance as soloist with the Compton Heights Concert Band. A frequent performer in chamber music concerts in St. Louis, Coleman has made several appearances in the Musical Offering series, as well as recent faculty recitals at Washington University and St. Louis Community College at Forest Park. Coleman also has been active in promoting concerts in the St. Louis metropolitan area. He was director of the St. Louis Woodwind Quintet, which performed with Young Audubon for 15 years. He has a group called The St. Louis Chamber Players, which has performed on local concert series for the past 14 years and is an active participant in the New Music Circle, having directed and performed on their season concerts since 1969.

The Compton Heights Concert Band also will be featured in a varied program appealing to all ages and musical tastes. The June 24 concert will be highlighted by "Morning, Noon and Night in Vienna" Overture by von Suppe; "Blue Danube Waltz" by J. Strauss; "The Teddy Bear's Picnic" by Bratton; Sousa marches; "Nobles of the Mystic Shrine" and "El Capitan"; "Babes in Toyland" by Herbert; "The Cascades" by Joplin and selections from "Oklahoma" by Rodgers.

"Musical Mondays" concerts will be presented by the Compton Heights Concert Band on eight consecutive Mondays, June 24 through Aug. 12, each concert beginning at 7:30 p.m. on the Henry Shaw Memorial Bandstand, Tower Grove Park. All concerts are free and open to the public, with bench and lawn seating and free parking readily available.

Other soloists to be featured with the Compton Heights Concert Band this summer are Tim Meyers, Euphonium; Bernard Schneider, trombone; Gary Smith, trumpet; Steve Seward, tuba; Ken Hufford, antique trumpet; Jan Gigo, piccolo; and Leonard Smith, guest conductor.

The Compton Heights Concert Band of St. Louis was founded in 1976. A non-profit, tax exempt Missouri corporation, the Compton Heights Concert Band is supported by grants from the Missouri Arts Council, the St. Louis Arts & Humanities Commission, the Monsanto Fund, the Pizzman Fund, the Old House Journal, the "Bandwagon," the Band's Citizen support group, sponsors, donations, and fundraisers.

The band also sells custom-designed Compton Heights Concert

Band T-shirts, pens, buttons, caps, note pads, antique poster reproductions, Robert Knittel's book, "Walking in Tower Grove Park" and subscriptions to the Old House Journal and the 1985 Old House Journal Catalog.

By special arrangement with Clem Labien, publisher of the Old House Journal, the national how-to monthly for old home fanciers, subscriptions through the Compton Heights Concert Band are only $14 versus an $18 regular subscription rate, savings of over 20 percent. In addition, $7 of the $14 goes directly to the band as a donation.

Last year, the Compton Heights Concert Band sold the most Old House Journal subscriptions in the nation, thereby winning a $1,000 grant. The Compton Heights Band's goal is to win this grant again in 1985. Readers are urged to contact the Compton Heights Concert Band office for more details.

The Compton Heights Concert Band continues as St. Louis' only community concert band, consisting of approximately 60 amateur, student and professional musicians from the metropolitan St. Louis area.

Patt Holt singers perform June 23

The Patt Holt Singers will celebrate summer in St. Louis in a musical production in the new Lionberger Gallery at the Missouri Historical Society in the Jefferson Memorial Building in Forest Park, St. Louis, on Sunday, June 23, at 2 p.m. There is no admission charge.

The show will open with a ragtime tribute to St. Louis, including old favorites "Meet Me in St. Louis," "In the Good Old Summer Time," "East Side, West Side" and "Varsity Drag." Other popular numbers are "Take Me Out to the Ballgame," "Ta, Rafta Boom DeA" and "By the Sea." The hour-long program closes with a tribute to the armed forces.

The 20 singers and musicians are directed by John Peters, stage manager of the Muni. The Patt Holt Singers presented this 1904 show at the VP Fair in 1984 and also are scheduled for appearances at the fair this year.

Magic House to host Father's Day program

In honor of fathers, The Magic House, 516 S. Kirkwood Road, St. Louis, will be celebrating Father's Day with a special program entitled "Hats Off to Dad." From noon to 6 p.m. Sunday, June 16, all fathers wearing a hat and accompanied by at least one child will be admitted free of charge.

Two special contests will be held. At 2 p.m., a "Come to Daddy" contest will be held for infants, toddlers and preschoolers. Infants, ages 6 to 12 months, will compete to see who can crawl the fastest to their fathers. Toddlers, ages 13 to 24 months, will walk to daddy, preschoolers, age 2 to 4 years, will run to their fathers. Each age group will be further divided into smaller age categories to make the competition more equal.

A "Parent-Kid Look Alike" contest will be held at 4 p.m. Fathers and their children will pair up on the front yard of The Magic House to be judged. Judges will determine which "chop off the old block" looks most like the original.

Prizes will be awarded to first, second and third place finishers in both contests.

Admission to The Magic House is $2.50, or $2 for children under 12 years of age. Group rates are available. There is no additional charge for entering the "Come to Daddy" or "Parent-Kid" contests.

The Magic House is open to the public from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday through Thursdays and Saturdays; 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Fridays; and noon to 6 p.m. Sundays.

TRUCK ON. Custom and antique trucks will be displayed at a show hosted by Kenworth of St. Louis Inc. The event is set for 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, June 29.

Truck show slated June 29

Kenworth of St. Louis Inc. will host its annual custom and antique truck show on Saturday, June 29, in Fenton, Mo., a half mile west of Interstate 270 on I-44 at Soccer Park Road.

The show opens at 10 a.m. and concludes with an awards ceremony at 4 p.m. Admission is free.

In addition to the show, the Jimmy Queen Band and Wade "Pappy" Ray and his golden fiddle will perform. Refreshments will be available during the show.

The Fabulous Fox presents 'Gone with the Wind' June 17

The Fabulous Fox is kicking off its third annual Monday Night at the Movies series with the Civil War romance, "Gone with the Wind," starring Clark Gable, Vivien Leigh, Olivia de Havilland and Leslie Howard. The event begins at 6 p.m. Monday, June 17.

In addition to the showing of the movie on a 70-foot silver screen, "Gone with the Wind" memorabilia will be displayed in the lobby. Pat McCarver, a collector from Memphis, Tenn., will be exhibiting a miniature model of Tara made of 5,000 miniature bricks. The model measures 12 1/2 feet long, 40 inches high and 34 inches deep and is valued at $3,000. He will also show a coat worn in the movie by Clark Gable and other items from his collection.

To add to the authenticity of the evening, people will be arriving in horse-drawn carriages, the Civil War Re-enactment group from Jefferson Barracks will be wearing authentic Civil War military garb, and several models will be wearing recreations of Scarlett's gowns. Viewers are being encouraged to attend in costume and parade on the Fox stage during intermission.

In addition, there will be door prizes and Jack Jenkins will be featured on the Wuritzer organ. The doors open at 6 p.m., with an organ recital at 7 p.m. The movie begins at 7:30.

Tickets, priced at $5 for adults, $4 for senior citizens age 60 and over, and $2 for children 12 and under, are available from 10 a.m. June 17 at the Fox Theater box office.

Symphony to present free Father's Day concert

The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra will present a free outdoor concert at 7:30 p.m. on Father's Day, June 16, in Frontier Park on the banks of the Missouri River in St. Charles, Mo.

Conducted by Assistant Conductor Peter Suskind, the concert includes the "Blue Danube Waltz" by Strauss, "Mississippi Suite" by Grofé and other works.

This Father's Day concert is sponsored by the St. Charles County Arts Council in conjunction with Krey Distributing Co. and Nichols, in cooperation with the City of St. Charles Park and Recreation Department, with assistance from the Missouri Arts Council.

Memorial For Our Dad
CHARLES P. JOHANNIGMEIER, JR.
 When God calls our loved ones to live with Him above, We who are left behind always question his love. He knows how we need them so he only takes a few. To dwell with Him in heaven and make it beautiful to view. But who he takes the ones we love, we never truly knew. We only ask our faith in Him, then we can go. So, we who are left behind, must finally realize that. Good angels are very hard to find!

Time capsule contest ceremony scheduled June 20 at The Magic House

Neon attire will be a ticket for free admission to The Magic House, 516 S. Kirkwood Road, St. Louis, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Thursday, June 20. On that date, the not-for-profit children's museum will be holding a Time Capsule Contest Ceremony at noon. A time capsule is being placed in one of the walls of the new 3,000-square-foot addition to The Magic House, to let a future generation know what life was like in 1985. Neon clothes, one of the most popular fads of 1985, was chosen as the theme of the day because of its popularity with youth.

A Time Capsule Contest was held this past spring between St. Louis area school children. Students were asked to submit a list of eight items that they felt best typified life in the United States of America in 1985. Over 200 entries were received. John McGuire from the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Greg Gzinski of KTVI-TV and Terry Seigel, formerly with KADI, judged the entries. The winning entry was submitted by the fifth grade science class of St. Roch's School, 6040 Waterman, St. Louis. Their list of items will be placed in a fire-proof container during the ceremony and then placed in the wall of the addition by the judges. The list includes a booklet showing the renovation of the Statue of Liberty, a copy of the record "We are the World," a VCR tape of the movie "Amadeus," a copy of a local newspaper published on June 20, a picture of a student working a portable computer, a proof-set of 1985

U.S.A. coins, a story of an artificial heart transplant patient and a picture of the class on a field trip at The Magic House. The students from St. Roch's will be on hand to receive their awards, including a $100 check, which the school is using to purchase new science books for their library.

In conjunction with the neon clothes theme, The Magic House will be holding a Kid's Fashion '85 contest. The contest will be held immediately following the Time Capsule Ceremony at 12:30 p.m. (the contest is open to children and will be divided into the following age categories: under 2 years of age, 3 to 6 years, 7 to 10 years, 11 to 13 years and 14 to 16 years. Boys and girls will be judged separately. Contestants will be judged on how well they dress in the latest styles of 1985. The contest will be judged by Patricia DaPrato, a former fashion consultant for Famous-Barr. Winners will receive Magic House T-shirts and neon accessories.

Michael Allinson

'My Fair Lady' slated at Muny

"My Fair Lady," one of the greatest successes of the famous songwriting team of Lerner and Loewe, will be presented by The Muny during the week of June 24-30. Curtain time at the outdoor theater in Forest Park is 8:15 nightly. This production is sponsored by McDonnell Douglas Foundation.

Victoria Mallory, last seen here as the star of "The Sound of Music" in 1982, will be Eliza Doolittle and Michael Allinson will make his Muny debut as Henry Higgins, a role he has played for more than two years on Broadway and in many stock productions throughout the country.

"My Fair Lady," one of the most successful musicals of all time, includes Lerner and Loewe songs that are now standards in the popular music library, among them "I Could Have Danced All Night," "Get Me to the Church on Time," "Wouldn't It Be Lovely," "With a Little Bit of Luck," "On the Street Where You Live" and "I've Grown Accustomed to Her Face." It is based on George Bernard Shaw's classic 1912 play, "Pygmalion," and debuted on Broadway in 1954. The plot revolves around the haughty Professor Higgins, who makes a bet that he can teach a dingy cockney flower girl to speak, manners and looks to the point where she can be passed off to London society as a genuine rich girl. The Muny has presented it three times previously, the most recent in 1979.

The first success of the then new songwriting team of Frederick Loewe and Alan Jay Lerner was "Brigadoon" in 1948. Subsequently, they penned several others now considered Broadway classics, including "Paint Your Wagon," "Camelot," "Gigi" and "My Fair Lady."

Stephen Lebow, one of the principals in last season's "Sleeping Beauty" at The Muny, will be Freddy Eynsford-Hill. Marie Paxton again will play Mrs. Higgins, a role she played in The Muny's most recent performances of "My Fair Lady" in 1979, as well as in many other touring productions of the show.

Edmund Lyndeck, a Muny veteran character actor of many shows dating back to the late '50s, will be Col. Pickering.

St. Louisans appearing will be Joneal Joplin as Alfred P. Doolittle, James Paul as Harry, Fontaine Star as Mrs. Pearce, Dave Johnson as Jamie, Brendan Burke as Zoltan Karpathy, and Edith Taylor Hunter as Mrs. Eynsford-Hill. Edward M. Greenberg, productions director of The Muny, will direct. Sharon Halley is the choreographer.

Ticket prices for "My Fair Lady" are $22.50, $20, $17.50, $13 and $5. They are available at The Muny box office in Forest Park and at these hunch locations: Ticketmaster outlets at all Famous-Barr stores, all Dillard's stores, Team Togs and Tickets in Northwest Plaza and Chesterfield, and Regal Sports Inc. downtown; Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville at the Union Station ticket office, and Petus Brothers in Belleville. Tickets also may be charged on Mastercard, Visa or American Express by calling Chag-A-Tic at 1-314-231-1234. There is a nominal charge added to all Ticketmaster and Chag-A-Tic orders.

Triplets execute Edwardsville Legion, 15-4

Eric Gray Finesses Way To Victory

By GREGG OCHOA

Staff writer

EDWARDSVILLE — It took a new box of baseballs to help Edwardsville Post 199 finally clobber Tri-City's hot bats.

The Triplets hit the ball all over Hoppe Park Friday night. At one point in the third inning, first baseman Pat Cathey sliced a foul ball over the fence, forcing Edwardsville to open a new box of Diamond baseballs.

Shortly after that, Edwardsville's Steve Stuart got Cathey to fly to right field to end the inning — a frame which saw Post's 113 score 13 runs and put the game on ice.

Tri-City added a single run in the fourth to go with the run they had scored in the first inning and pounded Edwardsville 15-4 at Hoppe Park.

The victory, coupled with a 6-2 win over O'Fallon Thursday night, evened Tri-City's record to 2-2 (1-1 in North Division, District 22 play).

"It felt like we were a little nervous and excited the first two games, but tonight we relaxed more at the plate," said Tri-City Manager Dave Coakley.

Coakley shuffled his line-up as several players were battling slumps. The shake-up worked as the Triplets pounded out 15 hits.

Right fielder Fred Becker had three hits, as did Gerald Booker. Randy Burgess, Steve Davis and Eric Gray each had two hits apiece.

Gray also picked the victory, his first of the season. After a rocky start, in which he surrendered eight hits and four runs in the first two innings, Gray settled down and hitout Edwardsville for the remaining five innings.

A one-out single by Allen Schwartz in the third was the only hit Gray allowed the rest of the game.

The difference: "I quit throwing my fastball because they were hitting it pretty good. I used more off-speed pitches," Gray said. "If I got two strikes I would throw a fastball to the (smaller) guys."

Overall, Gray gave up nine hits and walked just three. He struck out four.

"This was Eric's first time pitching for me and I think he may have been a little nervous," Coakley said. "He's my No. 2 pitcher, but I wasn't able to get him in (with the rainouts)."

The Triplets sent 17 batters to plate in the top of the third inning.

TRICITY SCORING
1 0 13 100 0-15 10
EVILLE 2 2 0 000 0-4 91

TRICITY: Becker 2-1B, 2B, 2 RBI; Merr 1B; Cole 1B, 3 RBI; Burgess 2B, 1B, 4 RBI; Davis 2B, 1B, 3 RBI; Cathey 1B, 2 RBI; Gray 2B; Booker 2-1B, 2B, 1B; LOB: 4. WP: Gray (1-1) SO: 4, BB: 3.

EDWARDSVILLE: Kofesa 1B, Stark 2-1B; Riley 2-1B; Burrus 1B; RBL; Brinkman 1B; RBL; Schwartz 1B; Nelson 1B; LOB: 6. LP: Burrus (2-2) SO: 4, BB: 2.

which took approximately 45 minutes to complete. They scored 13 times on nine hits.

"Ironically, the inning started off in a bad way when Booker blooped a double down the right field line, but was later cut down stealing.

He made up for his baserunning with an RBI single later in the inning.

"I had moved Booker down to the bottom of the order (in the No. 9 position) because he had been struggling," Coakley said. "I think that might have shook him up."

Booker was the team's leading hitter last season, ending the year at .390. However, the year lay-off after high school took its toll. Booker was in a tailspin. At Collinsville, he went 6-for-4, striking out three times.

"I just kept my head down, opened my stance a little and took a level swing," Booker said. "I think I got 1 down now."

The Triplets got four RBIs in the inning from Burgess, who blasted a solo homer against O'Fallon. That along with a 3-for-4 performance by Sam Fale, who tossed a two-hitter gave Tri-City a 6-2 non-division.

Against Edwardsville, Davis collected three RBIs. Becker, Cathey and Shane Cole each had two runs batted in. Booker also drove in a run.

After Booker was caught stealing to open the third, Becker got a base hit and Derek Merz singled under the second baseman's glove. Billy Moore reached on a fielder's choice when the throw was too late to get Becker at third.

Cole got an RBI on a fielder's choice when Moore beat out the attempted force at second, scoring Becker. Burgess then singled home two runs and Davis added another RBI single.

Cathey scored two more runs with single. Gray walked and Booker collected his second hit of the inning, scoring Cathey.

Becker drilled an RBI single to score Gray. Merr then reached on a fielder's choice, forcing Becker at second. But, Moore walked to load the bases.

The was all for Troy Burrus, who had started the game strong for Edwardsville. Stuart came in and issued a bases loaded walk to Cole scoring Booker. Burgess then drilled a double plating two more runs. Davis then finished the scoring with a two-run scoring double.

The 13 runs in a single inning was the most offensive production this season. And, the 15 total runs were the most the Triplets had scored this season, bettering the 11 they tallied against Fairview Heights.

"We knew we could hit," Coakley said. "It was a matter of getting some of the guys out of a little slump."

Tri-City had taken a 1-0 lead in the first on Becker's double and Cole's RBI single. However, Edwardsville scored two times in the bottom of the inning.

Eric Kolesa and Don Stark both singled and P.J. Riley crunched a third hit for an RBI. In fact, the first seven men in the order reached base in the first inning. Tim Brinkman got Edwardsville's second run home on an infield out.

Post 199 added two more runs in the second. Chuck Nelson singled and scored on a sacrifice fly by Becker to left field.

Edwardsville used four pitchers: Burrus, Stuart, Jeff Wade and Rich Garde. Both Wade and Garde were the most effective. They held the Triplets to just one run on three hits over the last three innings. Garde also fanned three batters.

The loss gives Edwardsville a 1-2 league record. The Triplets were to play at Belleville today (Sunday) in a make-up game. The contest begins at 2 p.m. at Citizens Park.

Baum To Lead Team Of U.S. Wrestlers

Russ Baum's are headed to China in July

By BILL MILLIGAN

Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Karen Baum used to be jealous of all the time her husband, Russ, donated to coaching and teaching wrestling.

Russ Baum has been head wrestling coach and assistant football coach at Cahokia high school for the last eight years. He always puts in long hours at school.

Even in the summer, Baum, who lives in Granite City, works out with his wrestling team three days a week. He helps out with the Granite City Wrestling Club the rest of the week. On weekends he coordinates wrestling tournaments for the Illinois Wrestling Federation (IWF).

Along with his duties as Region 8 Director for the IWF, Baum is serving as director of the Prairie State Games this summer in Champaign.

All this was going to keep Baum busy until the end of July. To make up for lost time, the Baums planned on vacationing in upstate New York this August.

Plans changed last month when the IWF nominated Baum to coach a team of 24 Illinois High School Association state Class A and AA champions on a trip to China July 23 through August 10.

This summer, Karen Baum won't mind the time her husband spends coaching wrestling.

This summer, the Baum's will vacation in China.

"They sent me an application, explaining I had been nominated to coach the team," Baum said. "I was surprised. Most of the members of the IWF live in the Chicago area. Because their meetings are so far away (Chicago), I have never attended one. I didn't think anyone would vote for me to go on the trip."

Baum recognized the chance of a lifetime and returned his application. A few weeks later, he learned he had been selected to coach the team.

Baum wanted to take his wife on the trip, but Karen was hesitant to leave her children for two weeks.

The women at work (the O.B. ward at St. Elizabeth's Medical Center in Granite City) insisted she go with me. I don't care how much it costs me, I want her to come along."

CHINA BOUND. Russ Baum, wrestling coach at Cahokia High School who lives in Granite City, and his wife Karen (the former Karen Muhlshill of Granite City) will journey to China this summer as Russ leads a group of Illinois wrestlers on that trip. In the photograph above, Baum points to a map and the approximate location where he, his wife and the team of wrestlers will be.

The question became who would watch the kids. Baum's parents in Chicago and Karen's folks in Millstadt insisted on splitting those duties.

"I always told my wife I would rather vacation somewhere other than Europe if we went abroad," Baum said. "I wanted to be exposed to a different culture."

This summer, Baum will get his wish.

There are still some obstacles to overcome. For instance, travel plans for the team are up in the air. The Chinese government is unsure just how much of the country they will let the Americans see.

Even though the trip is over a month away, the Baums will have just enough time to obtain passports. Funding is also a problem.

Though Baum is going to pay for his wife's expenses, the state has asked each participant to come up with donations to help pay the costs of the trip.

The trip is part of the Illinois Department of Trade and Gov. James Thompson's efforts to improve relations with China. Partial funding for the trip will come from the state. However, each participant has been asked to raise $2,600 for travel expenses.

Baum plans on soliciting donations from area businesses, but a letter of introduction promised by the governor's office has been slow in coming.

Baum said that he has sent letters to organizations like the American Legion, but so far results have not been forthcoming.

"I hate asking people for money," he said.

The Granite City Wrestling Club has set up a special fund for Baum's trip. Persons interested in making a tax deductible donation can do so by mailing them to the club marked Russ Baum, care of Tom Sparks, 46 Villa Drive, Granite City, Ill. 62040.

The club will also accept donations on behalf of Kip Kristof, Class AA state champion from Bethalto in the 167-pound division.

The team will travel to Tokyo.

Warriors Finish Third Maroons earn All Sports honors

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Executive Sports Editor

Belleville West grabbed five first-place finishes out of a possible 15 sports during the course of the school year to win the Southwestern Conference All-Sports Trophy.

It was the 12th straight year that the Maroons have clinched the honor as best of the Southwestern Conference. The last team to win the SWC All-Sports Trophy was Granite City, the last year the Warriors were in the league before leaving for the Gateway East Conference.

The Maroons, who finished first in high school boys cross country, golf, volleyball, softball and boys tennis, collected 66 conference points enroute to their first-place finish in the final league standings. Belleville East was second while the Warriors, completing in their first full-season in the SWC since leaving the league 12 years ago, finished third with 55 points. Other finishers were East St. Louis, fourth, Alton, fifth, and Collinsville rounded out the SWC standings in sixth place.

Ironically, the Maroons, captured All-Sports honors without garnering a first-place finish in a major sport — either football, basketball or baseball.

Conversely, the East St. Louis Flyers captured two of those three major sports titles — football and baseball — but still only managed to finish fourth in the league standings.

"Belleville West excels in what I call the country club sports," explained GCHS Athletic Director Greg Patton. "West's kids grow up playing those sports and it helps them in high school."

Then on the other hand, Patton said, East St. Louis has proven its ability in the major sports but lacks in some of the others, such as the "country club sports."

"East Side lacks the consistency throughout its program," Patton said. "They excel in football, baseball and track, but lack those 'country club sports' and generally an all-around balanced program."

Granite City, which Patton said offered one of the most balanced programs, captured two sole first-place finishes in the league, wrestling and girls cross country, and shared a third title — soccer — with Collinsville and Alton.

The Warriors finished third in the league merely by their competitive spirit. They were the only team in the league that did not finish last or tied for last in at least one sport.

"West success, obviously, is their girls sports," Patton said. "They've got an all-around good program, but their girls program seems to be better than the other girls programs."

In the fall, the Warriors were first in girls cross country and soccer, second in golf, fourth in football and girls tennis, and fifth in boys cross country.

Through the winter sports season, Granite City edged Belleville East for a first-place finish in wrestling and also tied for the league championship in basketball with Collinsville. In girls basketball, the Warriors finished fifth.

This spring the Warriors tied for third in the league with Alton in baseball, while the softball team was the sole third-place finisher in the league.

Fourth-place finishes were earned by the Granite City in boys track and boys tennis while the girls track team finished fifth overall.

Champions around the league include: Belleville East in girls tennis; Belleville West in boys cross country, golf, volleyball, boys tennis and girls softball. Collinsville shared a league championship in basketball and soccer; Alton shared the soccer championship; East St. Louis received championships in football (state champs), and boys (state champs) and girls track.

SIUE sets cage camps

EDWARDSVILLE — Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's head basketball coach, Larry Graham, has announced the dates for one of the most extensive summer basketball camps in the region. According to Graham, the camps will be aimed at three different targets, individual fundamentals, varsity team competition and a third session for junior varsity and junior high school team competition.

The first camp, which will stress fundamentals, is set for June 23-28 with openings for resident or day campers still available. The second session, scheduled to get underway July 7 and run through July 12, will feature the high school varsity team concept. July 14-19, Graham will conduct a third session for junior varsity and junior high school team play.

All three sessions are open to resident and day campers between the ages of nine and 18 years old, who have not started their senior year of high school. Cost for a week-long session is set at $150 per resident camper and $100 per day camper. Resident campers will stay in SIUE's Tower Lake Apartments and receive three meals per day campers will also include lunch and dinner each day. All campers will receive a free Larry Graham/SIUE basketball T-shirt.

For reservations to any session, or for additional information, contact Larry Graham, Head Basketball Coach, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Edwardsville, Ill., 62026, or call 1-692-2871.

Park seeks junior high softball teams

The Granite City Park District is currently searching for teams to fill its Junior High School Softball League.

The league is open to girls who are attending or who are eligible to attend any junior high school within the Granite City public school system.

Girls should be enrolled in the district by June 1 of the current or who are 12 years old by Dec. 31 of the current year.

The team entry fee is $50 plus a $25 forfeit fee which will be returned at the end of the season if the team does not forfeit a game during the course of the season.

Persons seeking further information should contact John Lukin, recreation supervisor, at 877-3059.

GC Mat Club practicing for Prairie State

The Granite City Wrestling Club is currently practicing two nights a week in preparation for this summer's Prairie State Games. Persons interested in working out with the team, are invited to attend the workouts.

Practicing on Monday and Thursdays from 7 to 8 p.m. at Granite City Center, the Granite City Wrestling Club extends an invitation to those persons interested in training with the club for the Games, which are patterned after the Olympics.

Persons interested in practicing should have an Illinois Kids Wrestling Federation card or a USAWF card. Those persons who don't may join the wrestling federations for $2.

Mat clinic July 1, 2

The Granite City Wrestling Club has scheduled a wrestling clinic July 1 and 2 at Granite City Center which will be conducted by two of the biggest names in amateur wrestling in the country.

Clay Anderson and Mike Sheets, both three-time All-Americans and national champions, will lead the camp. Sheets was named the 1984 Wrestler of the Year and has been invited to instruct a demonstration and clinic at the national tournament.

Cost of the tournament is $25 per wrestler. There will be five sessions. Persons seeking further information may call any one of three Granite City Wrestling Club members: Monte Kessler at 831-0591, Mike Trgovich at 877-7651 or Tony Sparks at 451-1375.

YMCA begins court bonuses

The Tri-City Area YMCA is offering monthly racquetball passes which entitle the bearer to unlimited access to court time, either prime or non-prime.

The cost of the pass is $30 to non-members, $25 for participating members and $20 to Nautilus and physical members. In addition, the YMCA is offering a special deal to

Guelker soccer camps

Applications are being accepted for resident and day campers for the Junior Olympic Soccer Camps, conducted by Bob Guelker, soccer coach at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The two overnight camps are scheduled for Missouri Baptist College in West County July 14-19, and Parks College in Cahokia July 21-26. For more details, inquiries can be made by contacting the Camp Office at P.O. Box 9363, St. Louis, Mo., 63117, or phone 314-567-6760.

Cougar wrestling team inks four matmen to national letters of intent

Two-time NCAA Division II wrestling champions, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville have signed four to national letters of intent.

Inked were Kurt Bednar, Keith Reinhard, Jon Wagner and Rick Hanak.

Bednar is a past state champion from Hinsdale South High School in Illinois. As a senior Bednar compiled a 32-2 record. He won 17 career tournament championships.

Reinhard posted a 34-5 record last season at Joliet West High School. Following his senior season he placed sixth in the Midwest Regional of the Junior Olympics.

Hanak, from Cooper City, Fla., was a three-year state qualifier. He posted a 34-1 record last season. His high school career record was 44-13-1 with 36 pins.

Wagner, a two-time state freestyle champion, was a four-year letter man from Central High School in West Allis, Wis.

His career record was 97-13. Wagner was a three-time conference champion and won second place at the Central USA Juniors Tournament in Madison, Wis.

An all-around athlete, Wagner also earned all-conference and honorable mention all-state in football as a linebacker and running back.
